

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

JOHN M. DUNN,

Plaintiff(s),

V.

OLEN RESIDENTIAL REALTY CORP., et al.,

Defendant(s).

Case No. 2:18-cv-00186-JAD-NJK

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Concurrently herewith, the Court is issuing an order granting Plaintiff's application to proceed in forma pauperis. Upon granting an application to proceed in forma pauperis, courts additionally screen the complaint pursuant to § 1915(e). Federal courts are given the authority to dismiss a case if the action is legally "frivolous or malicious," fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). When a court dismisses a complaint under § 1915, the plaintiff should be given leave to amend the complaint with directions as to curing its deficiencies, unless it is clear from the face of the complaint that the deficiencies could not be cured by amendment. See Cato v. United States, 70 F.3d 1103, 1106 (9th Cir. 1995).

Rule 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides for dismissal of a complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Review under Rule 12(b)(6) is essentially a ruling on a question of law. See Chappel v. Lab. Corp. of Am., 232 F.3d 719, 723 (9th Cir. 2000). A properly pled complaint must provide a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief. Fed.R.Civ.P. 8(a)(2); Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007). Although Rule

1 8 does not require detailed factual allegations, it demands “more than labels and conclusions” or a
2 “formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009)
3 (citing Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 286 (1986)). The court must accept as true all well-pled factual
4 allegations contained in the complaint, but the same requirement does not apply to legal conclusions. Iqbal,
5 556 U.S. at 679. Mere recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported only by conclusory
6 allegations, do not suffice. Id. at 678. Secondly, where the claims in the complaint have not crossed the 7 line from conceivable to plausible, the complaint should be dismissed. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570.
8 Allegations of a pro se complaint are held to less stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by 9 lawyers. Hebbe v. Pliler, 627 F.3d 338, 342 & n.7 (9th Cir. 2010) (finding that liberal construction of pro
10 se pleadings is required after Twombly and Iqbal).

11 In this case, Plaintiff sued a residential company and its private counsel in relation to alleged 12 misconduct in relation to summary judgment filings in a different court proceeding. See Docket No. 1-1
13 at 3-8. Although not entirely clear, it appears the underlying civil lawsuit was in state court. See Docket
14 No. 1-1 at 1 (alleging misconduct occurred in the Eighth Judicial District Court). Plaintiff attempts to bring 15 claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for alleged constitutional violations committed by these non-governmental 16 parties. See id. at 1, 4-6. The United States Constitution itself does not create a federal cause of action;
17 instead, suits alleging the violation of constitutional rights must be brought pursuant to § 1983. E.g., Azul-
18 Pacifico, Inc. v. City of Los Angeles, 973 F.2d 704, 705 (9th Cir. 1992). To bring such a claim, the plaintiff
19 must allege that a defendant was acting under color of law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988). “The 20 traditional definition of acting under color of state law requires that the defendant in a § 1983 action have 21 exercised power ‘possessed by virtue of state law and made possible only because the wrongdoer is clothed
22 with the authority of state law.’” Id. (quoting United States v. Classic, 313 U.S. 299, 326 (1941)). That 23 is not the scenario presented by Plaintiff’s allegations. To the contrary, his claims are premised on the 24 conduct of his non-governmental litigation opponents in a civil dispute. Accordingly, Plaintiff’s § 1983
25 claims fail as a matter of law.

26
27
28

1 Providing leave to amend is not warranted in this case. It is clear on the face of the complaint that
 2 Defendants were Plaintiff's civil litigation opponents and did not act under color of law, so Plaintiff will
 3 not be able to state a claim under § 1983.<sup>1</sup>

4 For the reasons outlined above, the undersigned RECOMMENDS that Plaintiff's complaint be 5 DISMISSED without leave to amend.

10 NOTICE

11 Pursuant to Local Rule IB 3-2, any objection to this Report and Recommendation must be in writing
 12 and filed with the Clerk of the Court within fourteen (14) days. The Supreme Court has held that the courts
 13 of appeal may determine that an appeal has been waived due to the failure to file objections within the 14 specified time. Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 142 (1985). This circuit has also held that (1) failure to file
 15 objections within the specified time and (2) failure to properly address and brief the objectionable issues
 16 waives the right to appeal the District Court's order and/or appeal factual issues from the order of the 17 District Court. Martinez v. Ylst, 951 F.2d 1153, 1157 (9th Cir. 1991); Britt v. Simi Valley United Sch. Dist., 18 708 F.2d 452, 454 (9th Cir. 1983).

 20
 22 <sup>1</sup> For the reasons stated herein, it is clear that Plaintiff cannot state a federal cause of action. It is also 23 highly unlikely that Plaintiff could plead a state law claim. A party generally challenges the submissions
 24 and determinations made in a civil case in Nevada state court by filing an appeal or seeking reconsideration,
 25 see, e.g., Nev. R. App. P. 4; Nev. R. Civ. P. 60(b), not by initiating a new lawsuit. At any rate, even were 26 Plaintiff to plead some viable state law claim, no basis has been shown that this Court would have subject
 27 matter jurisdiction over any such claim. To the contrary, the attorney that Plaintiff identifies in the 28 complaint is Chet Glover, Docket No. 1-1 at 2, and the Nevada state bar records indicate that he has been an attorney licensed to practice law in Nevada since 2006 and has an office in Nevada, see White v. Martel, 601 F.3d 882, 885 (9th Cir. 2010) (taking judicial notice of state bar records is proper); see also *Lew v.
 Moss*, 797 F.2d 747, 750 (9th Cir. 1986) (citizenship for diversity jurisdiction purposes is determined based on a number of factors, including "place of employment").
